Tip of the Month – Function Highlight: FYCVAl

Do you have trouble deciding whether or not to use the FYCVAl function when referencing data on another row? There are three specific instances when the FYCVAl function is most useful.

1. When you are doing relative row referencing. Relative row referencing is used when you have a Unique ID on a parent row and you want to get values from a child row that does not contain a Unique ID.
2. When you want to retrieve data from a specific fiscal year.
3. When you want to retrieve data from a different year relative to the current year being calculated (i.e., lead or lag data).

WBS/CES Description	Unique ID	Point Estimate	Phasing Method	Equation / Throughput	FY 2012	FY 2013	FY 2014
*My Program Estimate	*Estimate
Get value from Child Row 2		15,000 *	F	FYCVAl(@iRow1+2)	1
Get value from Input Row 2 for FY 2013		11,000 *	C	FYCVAl(@iRow2, 2013)	2
Lag Values from Input Row 3 one year		42,000 *	F	FYCVAl(@iRow3, FYR - 1)	3
*INPUT VARIABLES	*IN_VAR
Input Row 1	iRow1	45,000 *
Child Row 1		6,000 *	IS	[Input Throughput]	1	2	3
Child Row 2		15,000 *	IS	[Input Throughput]	4	5	6
Child Row 3		24,000 *	IS	[Input Throughput]	7	8	9
Input Row 2	iRow2	33,000 *	IS	[Input Throughput]	10	11	12
Input Row 3	iRow3	42,000 *	IS	[Input Throughput]	13	14	15

Results:

WBS/CES Description	Total	FY 2012	FY 2013	FY 2014	FY 2015
*My Program Estimate
Get value from Child Row 2		15,000	4,000	5,000	6,000
Get value from Input Row 2 for FY 2013		11,000
Lag Values from Input Row 3 one year		42,000	13,000	14,000	15,000
*INPUT VARIABLES
Input Row 1	45,000	12,000	15,000	18,000
Child Row 1	6,000	1,000	2,000	3,000
Child Row 2	15,000	4,000	5,000	6,000
Child Row 3	24,000	7,000	8,000	9,000
Input Row 2	33,000	10,000	11,000	12,000
Input Row 3	42,000	13,000	14,000	15,000

If a row contains a Unique ID and you are not shifting or retrieving specific years of data, you only need to reference the Unique ID when retrieving values.

Inflation Indices Update - NASA 2012 Inflation Update Available

There is a new installation file available to update the ACEIT 2012 System Inflation Database with the 2012 NASA New Start Inflation Index. No other indices have been updated. Please download this file from the Inflation Indices page located in the Download section of the ACEIT.com website.

You will be required to login to the website. Your DMS must be current to download the inflation updates.

These inflation indices are for use with ACEIT 7.0 and above.

New Download Available - ACE-to-ACE Plugin Hotfix 7.3a-001

You must have ACEIT 7.3a installed prior to installing this hotfix.

The following issues have been resolved:

ACE-to-ACE Plug-in

- When importing several cases from the same session, yearly results from cases already imported were cleared
- Received an error when trying to refresh imported data from a case that no longer existed
- When importing data from several sessions and/or cases, the ACE plug-in sometimes caused ACE to crash
- Plug-in can now import multiple cases at once

The Hotfix is available to download from the ACEIT website.
